

Destination Equus Contest

Win Tickets to a Kentucky Elite Farm and Events Tour

Horse Illustrated magazine and HorseChannel.com are offering horse lovers the opportunity to take part in a dream vacation: one that revolves around horses. Enter to win two pairs of tickets to the Destination Equus Kentucky Elite Farm & Events Tour, April 25-27 in the Bluegrass State. Be on course for the Rolex Kentucky Three-Day event's cross-country phase and meet USEF President and Olympic medalist David O'Connor. The excitement continues with visits to Keeneland Race Track and renowned Thoroughbred, Arabian and Saddlebred farms. Plus, enjoy a special tasting of Kentucky's fine bourbon.

Guests will tour in a luxury charter bus, enjoy meals at each fully catered tour stop, and retreat to the comfort of the Marriott Griffin Gate Resort.

Welcome to the Destination Equus Kentucky Elite Farm & Events Tour! Please read the following contest details and use the links at the bottom of this page to proceed.

Contest Details

The Destination Equus Kentucky Farm & Events Tour contest is a random giveaway for two complimentary tickets valid April 25-27, 2008. The tickets include:

- Two-night accommodations
- Transportation to tour stops via charter buses
- Meals as specified in the tour itinerary
- Bourbon tasting
- Private tours of Keeneland Race Track and Thoroughbred, Arabian and Saddlebred farms
- Admission to the Kentucky Rolex Three-Day Event on Saturday, April 26, 2008

Please note: Travel to and from the Destination Equus Kentucky Elite Farm & Events Tour is not included.

Contest expires February 28, 2008.

General Contest Rules

Each user can only enter the contest once.

A limit of one entry per household is enforced. Any evidence of additional entries will result in disqualification.

Contest winners will be announced through a posting online.

The winner(s) will be contacted by email and receive his/her prize directly from the manufacturer or sponsor.