

Horse Emergency Information

Find all the information you need related to horses and emergencies, including real-life survivor stories and helpful tips.

Is Your Barn Prepared for Emergencies?

May 8 is recognized as National Animal Disaster Preparedness Day. Read more >>

Emergency Plan

Whatever the emergency—fire, tornado, hurricane or earthquake—it's important to be prepared. Read more >>

Emergency Contact Information

Make sure those who care for your horse have the emergency contact numbers they need. Read more >>

Directions to Emergency Responders

If you become incapacitated during an accident, you can make sure your horses will be taken care of by leaving information that will help direct emergency responders. Read more >>

Road Emergency!

It is impossible to plan for every potential emergency, but being prepared in advance can make the difference between being helpful and being helpless. Read more >>

Tips for Horse Owners to Prepare for Hurricane Season

LSU and the Louisiana State Animal Response Team provide readiness guidelines. Read more >>

Escaping the Wildfire

They issued a mandatory evacuation and I didn't have a trailer. Read more >>

Part II of Escaping the Wildfire

A mandatory evacuation and no horse trailer left me hand-walking two horses away from the flames, with no plan of where to go. Read more >>

Emergency Preparedness: Survival Stories Read more >>

HorseChannel 2007 California Wildfire Coverage

Find horse resources and news on the 2007 Southern California wildfires. Read more >>