

Newsire

Stay up-to-date with the latest horse news from all around the country (03-30-07).

03-30-2007

Appeals court blocks horse meat inspections

A federal appeals court has blocked the U.S. Department of Agriculture from providing horse meat inspections for a fee, the Dallas Morning News reports. Read more >>

High insurance costs leave therapeutic horses looking for new home

A local horse farm set to close, leaving several therapeutic horses without a place to stay WHDH-TV (Mass.) reports. Read more >>

Equine program teaches students and adults respect and communication

Equine Assisted Learning or EAL, is a relatively new field, pairing kids with horses to encourage cooperation, creative thinking and patience, The Daily Times reports. Read more >>