

HorseChannel Newswire

Vote for your favorite breed competition; Young eventers can earn a chance to work with top-level riders; Equine painting workshop to be held in Massachusetts

July 2, 2009

2010 World Equestrian Games

World Equestrian Games Test Runs Coming

What's free to see for the public is being viewed as invaluable practice for organizers of the World Equestrian Games and its host site, the Kentucky Horse Park. From WTVQ. Read more >>

Equestrian Sport

USEF Announces "My Favorite USEF Breed Competition" Contest

The United States Equestrian Federation (USEF) announces a new contest for 2009 designed to let USEF members vote for their "Favorite USEF Breed Competition." From USEF. Read more >>

Juniors and Young Riders: Spend Two Weeks With Boyd Martin or Gina Miles

The USEA Youth Board will be awarding Youth Board Advancement Grants at the end of the summer to two deserving Junior/Young Riders. From USEA. Read more >>

Equine Welfare

Humane Society wants Stampede's rodeo off the airwaves

The Calgary Stampede is being called a "brutal violent spectacle" of animal cruelty by the Humane Society of Canada, which has filed a complaint with Canada's broadcasting regulator over the airing of the world's largest outdoor rodeo. From Canada.com. Read more >>

In Other News

Equine and animal painting workshop in Danvers coming up

Equine and sporting artist Susan Dorazio, AAEP, SAA, will hold a four day painting workshop at the Danvers Art Association, Aug. 3-6, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. From Wicked Local Danvers.

<http://www.wickedlocal.com/danvers/fun/entertainment/arts/x737348593/Equine-and-animal-painting-workshop-in-Danvers-coming-up>

Law Creates Texas Horse Incentive Program

All American Quarter Horses, American Paint Horses and Appaloosas conceived by mares and stallions living in Texas during 2009 are eligible to be nominated to the new Texas Equine Incentive Fund. From AQHA. Read more >>

Yesterday's News >>