

HorseChannel Newswire

Top equestrians trade sports in Equi-Challenge; North Dakota horse selected to play Secretariat in upcoming film; Colorado man advertises plan to brutally slaughter horses

August 27, 2009

2010 World Equestrian Games

Kentucky delegation attends equestrian championships in England

A delegation of Kentucky officials, including Gov. Steve Beshear and his wife, are attending the Alltech FEI European Jumping and Dressage Championships at Windsor Castle in England this week. From The Lexington Herald-Leader. Read more >>

Equestrian Sport

Equestrian stars will trade hats and horses at Equi-Challenge

Olympic show jumper Ian Millar barrel racing? Racing legend Sandy Hawley playing polo? From The King Sentinel. Read more >>

In Other News

Kentucky Horse Council Announces Equine Education Fair For Students Interested In Horse Careers

Students and adults who are interested in a career with horses are being given a chance to learn more about their educational opportunities in the equine field. From USEF. Read more >>

N.D. horse chosen for Disney film

Cyclone Larry has always lived his life on the fast track. Now the Casselton thoroughbred can hoof it to Hollywood. From The Grand Forks Herald. Read more >>

Horse at zoo looks in - and watches out

The newest law-enforcement tool at the Cape May County Sheriff's Department likes hay and apples, and is no longer scared of being eaten by a lion. From Press of Atlantic City. Read more >>

Horse owner's flyer asks for help with executions

The flyer says a horse owner needs help finding executioners. He wants people to come to his property and help gun down 24 horses. From 9News. Read more >>

Yesterday's News >>