

HorseChannel Newswire

Springsteen wins USEF Hunt Seat Medal Final; Preakness will not move out of Maryland; Idaho high schoolers learn trail riding safety

October 14, 2009

Equestrian Sport

Springsteen Rocks the Pessoa/USEF Hunt Seat Medal Final at the 64th Pennsylvania National Horse Show
Seventeen-year-old Jessica Springsteen was the biggest star at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show as her famous parents cheered her on. From USEF. Read more >>

Racing News

Magna says it won't consider bid to move Preakness

In bold lettering in bankruptcy court filings, Magna Entertainment Corp. said it will not consider bids at auction that would move the Preakness Stakes horse race from Maryland, a decision cheered Tuesday by Gov. Martin O'Malley. From The Associated Press. Read more >>

In Other News

Wild Horses 'Unsustainable' In Western US

Wild mustangs in America have become so abundant that their numbers are no longer 'sustainable for the horses, the environment or the taxpayer', according to the US government. From SkyNews. Read more >>

Grant Will Help Improve Safety for Young Equine Enthusiasts

Young equine enthusiasts will soon be safer at the barn with the help of a new educational program developed specifically for them. From Michigan Farmer. Read more >>

Students learn trail savvy in equine science class

Usually students don't get to bring their pets to school. From The Rexburg Standard-Journal. Read more >>

Yesterday's News >>