

HorseChannel Newswire

23 countries represented at World Equestrian Games endurance test event; USEF announces clinics with Olympic dressage riders; Educational equine seminars offered in Illinois

October 15, 2009

Equestrian Sport

Endurance event draws riders from 23 nations

Two notable horse races are being staged Wednesday in Lexington besides the Keeneland card: 100-mile and 75-mile races will be run at the Kentucky Horse Park and surrounding farmland as an official test event for the 2010 Alltech FEI World Equestrian Games. From The Louisville Courier-Journal. Read more >>

U.S. rider leads endurance competition

Two-time world champion endurance rider Valerie Kanavy of Virginia dropped out of Wednesday's event at the Kentucky Horse Park after the Arabian mare she was riding slipped on a rain-slicked driveway early in the race. From The Lexington Herald-Leader. Read more >>

Additional Dressage Developing Clinics Conducted by Olympians Announced

The United States Equestrian Federation (USEF) Dressage Department is pleased to announce additional dressage clinic dates and locations for developing horse/rider combinations in the United States. From USEF. Read more >>

Equine Welfare

Rescued Horses Get Helping Hand

A farm for rescued horses in Epping is getting a makeover with the help of Home Depot and a group of volunteers. From WMUR. Read more >>

In Other News

Equine seminar series offered

Henry County Farm Bureau® in conjunction with Bureau, Knox and Stark County Farm Bureaus, the University of Illinois Extension Bureau and Henry-Stark Units, as well as Black Hawk East, is coordinating a series of three equine seminars coming up in November. From Quad-Cities Online. Read more >>

Rescued wild horse finds home

"I have made this a passion of mine," said Lisa Friday in a recent interview at her home near Rockville, as she talked about adopting "Rain," a wild mustang from a herd living in the Pryors Mountains in Wyoming. From The Goochland Gazette. Read more >>

Yesterday's News >>