

HorseChannel Newswire

Natural Walking Horses chosen for WEG exhibitions; Racing starts up at British race track after four equine deaths in one day; Kentucky program helps screen racetrack workers for cancer

October 31, 2009

2010 World Equestrian Games

WEG picks natural walking horses for exhibits

A controversial Tennessee Walking Horse group will not be allowed to participate in the Equine Village at the Alltech FEI World Equestrian Games after all. From The Lexington Herald Leader. Read more >>

Equestrian Sport

Event Program Announced for USET Foundation Fundraiser

The program for the USET Foundation Holiday Gala Fundraiser is shaping up to be big as many of the country's top riders have now signed on to participate. From USDF. Read more >>

Racing News

Racing resumes after horse deaths

Racing has begun at Wetherby Racecourse for the first time since four horses died at the track in one day. From BBC News. Read more >>

In Other News

TPD horses will go to nonprofit equestrian programs, mayor says

Horses from the Tulsa Police Department's Mounted Patrol Unit, which is being cut from the city's budget, will go to nonprofit equestrian programs, Mayor Kathy Taylor said Thursday. From Tulsa World. Read more >>

Horses for Hope program saves lives in KY

October is breast cancer awareness month. Each year in Kentucky, 3,000 women are diagnosed with the cancer, and some 600 will lose their fight to it. From WKYT. Read more >>

Yesterday's News >>