

HorseChannel Newswire

FEI announces first winners of new awards; Donkey hospitalizes neighbor in Georgia; Sheryl Crow speaks out in support of The Cloud Foundation

November 21, 2009

2010 World Equestrian Games

Equestrian Games trigger hotel shortage

Anyone planning to book hotel rooms in Cincinnati in late September or early October 2010 might want to do it sooner rather than later. From The Cincinnati Business Courier. Read more >>

In Other News

FEI Awards Winners Announced

At a glittering ceremony in Copenhagen on 19 November, five heroes of the equestrian world became the first recipients of the new FEI Awards. From FEI. Read more >>

Show at OSU pushes preserve for mustangs

The wild mustangs Freedom, El Compadre and Felio were featured during the halftime show at Oklahoma State University's football game Thursday in an effort to raise awareness of the plight of wild horses. From Tulsa World. Read more >>

Rating the equine industry

Horses are an important and large part of Lucie Burdon-Sereda's family. The Blenheim-area resident has her two daughters involved in the equine industry as competitive riders in dressage events. From The Chatham Daily News. Read more >>

Man hospitalized after donkey attack

A man was hospitalized Thursday after he said a pet donkey owned by a neighbor bit him numerous times. From The Augusta Chronicle. Read more >>

Sheryl Crow Joins in Wild Horse Fight

Singer-songwriter Sheryl Crow is not a celebrity-come-lately to the wild horse debate. From Las Vegas Now. Read more >>

Yesterday's News >>