

HorseChannel Newswire

Zara Phillips and Toytown will not be defending their WEG eventing title in Kentucky; USEF names World Equestrian Games show jumping long list; Wild horses overrun Wyoming town

March 10, 2010

2010 Alltech FEI World Equestrian Games

Zara Phillips rules out world title defence on Toytown

Zara Phillips will not defend her world three-day eventing title aboard Toytown in the USA this autumn. From BBC News. Read more >>

USEF Names World Equestrian Games Show Jumping Long List

Following the USEF Show Jumping Selection Trials that took place over five events in Wellington, Florida last week, the long list for the 2010 World Equestrian Games. From Regarding Horses. Read more >>

Equestrian Sport

Lendon Gray accepts $25,000 grant for Courtney King-Dye

Courtney King-Dye remains in a coma following a fall from a horse last week, but her mentor Lendon Gray was on hand at the weekend's Palm Beach Derby to accept a $US25,000 grant from Carol Lavel, won by the injured rider. From Horsetalk. Read more >>

Mara Dean is First Off the Mark in 2010 HSBC FEI World Cup™ Eventing

Mara Dean has become the first rider to post a winning score on the HSBC FEI World Cup™ Eventing leaderboard, following an emotional pillar-to-post victory in the Florida sunshine at the Red Hills International CIC***-W in Tallahassee, FL. From USEF. Read more >>

In Other News

Wild horses flock to small Wyo. town, but could be sent east

They're considered an American icon and a symbol of the West. But very soon, thousands of wild horses could be moving east. From 9News.com. Read more >>

Yesterday's News >>