Are you a member of the American Quarter Horse Association (AQHA)? Are you looking for college money? Now is the time to apply for a scholarship from the American Quarter Horse Foundation Scholarship Program by visiting: www.aqha.com/foundation/scholarships/wanttoapply.html. The site includes scholarship applications, application guidelines and tips that can better your chances of receiving financial help for college.

More than 900 students have benefited from the American Quarter Horse Foundation Scholarship Program, and if you have the grades and commitment, you might be able to join the ranks.

Time to get cranking: In addition to the application, several pieces of support materials are requested in order to apply for an AQHF scholarship. The application deadline is Jan. 2, 2008, and late or incomplete applications are not eligible for consideration.

Good Luck!
