

HorseChannel Newswire

Stay up-to-date with the latest horse news from all around the country (09-20-07).

09-20-2007

NSW zoned for horse flu

The New South Wales Government (Australia) has established four zones within the state in an effort to free up some areas for horse activities, from ABC News. Read more >>

50,000 horse flu shots on way

Australia will import 50,000 horse flu vaccine shots for use in NSW and possibly Queensland, federal Agriculture Minister Peter McGauran says, from The Daily Telegraph. Read more >>

Owner is seeking answers about weekend attack on her horse, which she had to euthanize

LeAnn Scott was freshly showered and was preparing to watch the UT game Saturday when her phone rang. It was the owner of the barn where she kept her horse, from TriCities.com. Read more >>

Jousting Troupe Joins Search For Missing Horse

Some members of the jousting troupe from King Richard's Faire are assisting with the search for a missing horse, from Turnto10.com. Read more >>

Carriage drivers protest exam

Some operators of downtown Denver's horse-drawn carriages are at odds with the Denver Police Department over a proposal that would require all drivers and their horses to undergo a revised test to keep their permits, from the Rocky Mountain News. Read more >>

Horse Park event helps equines enjoy golden years

It has been six years since Currency Arbitrage, a New York-bred multiple stakes winner sired by Green Dancer, appeared in the winner's circle at Belmont Park, Elmont, N.Y., but that does not mean he has lost his competitive edge, from the News Transcript. Read more >>

A little heart can give horse continued love

Horses do not respect your davenport when you let them into your living room, from the Orlando Sentinel. Read more >>