

HorseChannel Newswire

Dubai ruler buys Australia's biggest breeding biz; Horses abandoned out West; Updates on Olympic tickets

May 14, 2008

Dubai's Sheikh Cleared to Buy Australia's Ingham Horse Business

Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid al-Maktoum, ruler of Dubai, gained regulatory approval to buy Australia's largest thoroughbred horse breeding business from Inghams Enterprises, from Bloomberg. Read more >>

Horses abandoned in West as feed prices rise

In the classic Hollywood western, a cowboy portrayed by John Wayne gallops across the sagebrush steppe and rocky ridges of the American West with only his horse for a companion, from Yahoo. Read more >>

Update on ticketing for the 2008 Olympic Equestrian Events

The Equestrian Committee (Hong Kong) of Beijing Organization Committee for the Games of the XXIX Olympiad would like to convey to you the following updates about the ticketing arrangements of the Beijing 2008 Olympic Games including the 2008 Olympic Equestrian Events for citizens residing outside the territory of People's Republic of China, from the FEI. Read more >>

Horse Racing | Sport is addicted to drugs

If many people concerned about the safety of Thoroughbreds had their way, the Preakness might be a race for 4-year-olds instead of 3-year-olds, from The Seattle Times. Read more >>

Olympic medalist to attend horse jumping clinic at farm

Olympic silver medalist Greg Best will be at Double Oak Farm near Suttons Bay in Michigan for a horse jumping clinic May 30 through June 1, from the Leelanau News. Read more >>