

HorseChannel Newswire

John Ward wins Open title at NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity; John Henry statue to be unveiled; One-eyed Laddy poses to raise awareness for equine welfare

October 7, 2008

Equestrian Sport

2008 NRCHA Snaffle Bit Futurity

John Ward wins the Open title while Dema Paul takes the Non-Pro Championship, from the AQHA. Read more >>

Consistency is Key as Benjamin and Sir Neel Take Home Top Honors in the 2008 Platinum Performance/USEF Show Jumping Talent Search Final – East

Gold medals from this summer's CN FEI North American Junior/Young Riders Championship at the Colorado Horse Park Presented by Gotham North spelled good things for competitors in the 2008 Platinum Performance/USEF Talent Search Finals, from the USEF. Read more >>

In Memory

In Memoriam - Debbie Miller Atkinson

Debbie Miller Atkinson passed away peacefully, on September 30, 2008, at Vanderbilt Hospital, Nashville, Tennessee. Debbie was injured during an eventing accident two years ago, and suffered a severe spinal cord injury, from the USEA. Read more >>

John Henry bronze statue to be unveiled

On the occasion of the one-year anniversary of John Henry's death, the two-time Horse of the Year and fan favorite will be memorialized at a dedication ceremony for the sculpture by renowned equine artist, Shelley Hunter, from the Kentucky Horse Park. Read more >>

Equine Welfare

One-eyed Laddy poses to raise horse welfare awareness

Laddy the one-eyed horse has made his public debut, appearing in the new book Equus by photographer Tim Flach, from Horse and Hound. Read more >>