Driving's world champion answers tough training questions at HorseChannel.

05-02-2007

If you prefer to drive horses rather than ride them, HorseChannel is the place to be May 2-22. During the next three weeks, HorseChannel.com is proud to feature carriage driving's four-time National Champion Muffy Seaton, who will be answering training questions specific to the sport. This week on HorseChannel.com Seaton answers the question, "At what age should a horse begin getting introduced to the cart?"

Check back next week when Seaton returns to answer another visitor's question, and again on May 16.

Seaton is a very well respected competitor, trainer and clinician. She placed 3rd in the world at the Royal Windsor Horse Show in 1997, and in 2005 she trained and qualified the pony that won the gold medal at the World Pony Championship in England.
