

Stars Aligned for the Virginia Equine Extravaganza

There's something for everyone at this forth annual event.

With a host of top name horse professionals on hand at the forth annual Virginia Equine Extravaganza, this year's event is pulling out all stops to be the best yet. The expo runs Oct. 26-28.

Heading up this all star line-up are Olympian icons Steffen Peters (dressage) and Phillip Dutton (eventing), along with popular favorites Charles Wilhelm and Ken McNabb, as well as over 30 more than horse pros and entertainers.

"This line up is sure to appeal to everyone from the serious dressage competitor to the novice vaulter, to the young eventer or the green reiner or cutter," said show producer Vicki O'Hara. "We have some of the top talent in the industry presenting over 140 clinics, demonstrations and seminars, ensuring that there is indeed something for everyone... It is important that we ensure a program which includes plenty of variety for all ages and levels of interest, as well as the different disciplines."

For a complete list of clinicians, horse professionals, entertainers, vendors, the clinic schedule and more, visit the Equine Extravaganza website at www.equineextravaganza.com.